PROJECTS

- Fake Account Detection Using Machine Learning and Data Science
- In our project on fake account detection using machine learning and data science, we developed a robust model that distinguishes between genuine and fake accounts on social media platforms.
- Leveraging features such as account activity patterns, profile completeness, and behavioral anomalies, our model achieved high accuracy in identifying suspicious accounts.
- By integrating advanced algorithms like Random Forest and Gradient Boosting, we created a scalable solution capable of real-time detection, contributing to enhanced cybersecurity and trustworthiness in online communities.
